Local Manufacturer Assembles 100 Stuffed Animals for Local Children in Crises

Washington, PA, December 6, 2017 - Washington Rotating Control Heads (Washington Rotating), a Washington County manufacturer of drilling equipment, just completed its second annual staff volunteer activity. The day before Thanksgiving, the Washington Rotating staff filled and sealed 100 stuffed animals for local children in crises.

“Last year we made fleece blankets and this year we wanted to try something new,” said Washington Rotating owner, Joyce Mayernik. “It’s wonderful to watch our staff bond during these crafting sessions. We hope these stuffed animals will bring so much joy to the children who receive them.”

The stuffed animals will be distributed between four local organizations, which include the Washington City Mission, Domestic Violence Services of Southwestern PA, the Washington Police Department, and the Washington Fire Department. These organizations will give the stuffed animals, which range from traditional teddy bears to alligators, to the children they serve.

Sarang Amin, a staff member at Washington Rotating, explained, “Stuffing the animals was so much fun. It was a great opportunity to help kids and spend some time with my coworkers. My mom always says, ‘Those who are happiest are those who do the most for others’.”
